

Meet us at the IMS World Forum in Madrid on May 23-24!

Informa Telecoms and Media, one of the most important event organizers in the European telco space, has in recent years chosen to host several of their international events in Madrid. One example is the Telco Data Analytics Europe that for the second time will be located in the Spanish capital at the end of October. Another interesting event for those professionals that specialise in the mobile and IMS core, and one that BlueTC is sponsoring, is the IMS World Forum at the Novotel Madrid Center.

Our experts will be happy to attend you at our stand or connect with you at the speed networking sessions. Our UK Sales Director will also be participating in a Panel Session on Network Security on the second day of the event. We hope you will listen in to get valuable updates on the current network security threat landscape and hear more about BlueTC's vision on how to best tackle them.

Although 4G networks have been widely launched in Europe, when it comes to full, commercial launch of Voice over 4G (VoLTE) or Voice over WiFi, Europe seems to be lagging behind Asia and the US. A quick way of knowing whether your smart phone supports voice over 4G or not, is to check whether your 4G symbol changes to 3G when you go from navigating on Internet to making a phone call.

BlueTC's experts have therefore identified a range of commercial, technical and operational challenges that operators must solve before they proceed to full commercial launch of VoLTE or VoWiFi. You might be interested in knowing that BlueTC has in-depth expertise in the IMS Core, backed by a proven track record of more than 200K man-hours working in product and service development and integration projects.

As usual, operators are entitled to free passes. If you do not represent an operator you are welcome to contact us for possible discounts.

If you would like to know more about our capabilities in these and related areas, we invite you to set up a conference call or meeting already now. Our International Sales Team will be delighted to assist you!
